HEAVIEST RED ASSAULT OF NEW YEAR SMASHES AGAINST NEW SOUTH KOREAN DIVISION

Seoul (AP)—The heaviest Red assault of the new year smashed against the lines of a newly-activated South Korean division today. The Allied soldiers held their ground, killed an estimated 213 of the attacking 800 Reds, and forced the Communists into retreat after three hours of savage close-quarter fighting.

Battles flared with renewed bitterness all along the frozen Korean front. Although the Reds hurled nearly 1,500 men into the fighting in bloody but futile attempts to dent the U. N. lines in pre-dawn darkness.

Two Killed in Car Plunge on Route 27 In Crawford County

Meadville—A man and woman were killed early Saturday morning when their car plunged down Hills Hill on Route 27, left the road and crashed into a tree.

Dead are:

Nevan Van Camp, 38, of Kertown, and Mrs. Marjorie McClure, 35, also of Kertown.

Mrs. McClure, who is thought to have been the driver, died at the scene of the crash, less than a mile from the Meadville city limits. Mr. Van Camp was taken to Meadville City Hospital, but was pronounced dead on arrival. The accident occurred about 2:15 a. m. Saturday.

A motorist trailing the death car, which was going toward Meadville, said it left the highway and careened along the berm for about 200 feet before smashing into the tree. The vehicle was bounced about 15 feet by the impact. The steering wheel was driven flush against the roof of the car.

Authorities theorized that Mrs. McClure may have been dozing at the wheel when the machine left the road. Dr. F. H. Muckhouth, Crawford County coroner, issued a verdict of accidental death and said no inquest will be necessary. The crash was investigated by State Police from the Meadville barracks.

Surviving Mrs. McClure is her husband, Victor, who is serving with the Navy in Japan; a son, Jon W. Robison of Meadville; her (Turn to Page Six)

36 Reported Dead In Northeastern Storms; Property Damage High

By The Associated Press
Clearing skies over most of the Northeastern States today brought relief from a three-day snow, ice and sleet storm that caused 36 deaths and millions of dollars property damage.

An army of repairmen worked day and night to restore power and telephone service to thousands of homes without heat, light and wire communications. They were hampered in some sections by wires and trees still coated with ice from the "silver freeze".

New England counted 29 dead and a million dollars in property damage. Most of the deaths were attributed to over-exertion.

Along with the sunshine, the weatherman delivered to Pennsylvania a chilly, windy day, but for a change there was neither rain nor snow on the weather map.

There was some prospect for snow flurries tomorrow.

Vanguard of Half Million Visitors In Harrisburg for Opening of Farm Show

By JOHN KOENIG JR.

Harrisburg (AP)—Turnstiles clicked away merrily today as the vanguard of an expected half million-plus visitors arrived for the opening session of the 37th annual Pennsylvania State Farm Show.

Judging got underway in spirited competition for honors in farm animal breeding, poultry raising and various vocational demonstrations.

More than $55,000 will be distributed among contest winners in the five-day show. But to the average visitor the pageantry of the occasion was the big eye-catcher.

Gov. John S. Fine will speak at the official opening ceremony in the huge Farm Show arena tonight. The Pennsylvania state police will put on a dashing display of horsemanship.

County's All-America Grid Player Honored as One of the Best in Washington District

Steven Eisenhower, big Navy guard and Warren County's first All-America, was honored Saturday night by the Washington Touchdown Club as the best collegiate football player in the Washington area.

Steve, the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Eisenhower of Shesfield, received his award—The Robert B. Smith Memorial Trophy—from Admiral William M. Fechteler, Chief of Naval Operations.

The Navy linebacker was one of a dozen outstanding college and professional footballers singled out by the club for their performance during the past season.

The presentation of the award to Eisenhower and three others is described in an Associated Press dispatch as follows:

Washington (AP)—Four Pennsylvania athletic figures were honored Saturday night by the Washington Touchdown Club.

Dick Modzelewski, Maryland

linebacker from Natrona, Pa., received the Knute Rockne Memorial Trophy as college Linebacker of the Year from Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas.

Steven Eisenhower, of Navy, was selected as the Washington area player of the year. Eisenhower hails from Warren, Pa.

Lynn Chadnois of the Pittsburgh Steelers was honored as the pro player of the year.

And last, but far from least, Jim Trimble of the Philadelphia Eagles was named as pro coach of the year.

Trimble made the shortest speech of the year, saying he didn't have much time since he expected to become a father sometime during the course of the evening.

Actually, Trimble arrived at Lady of Lourdes Hospital in Collingswood, N. J. about half an hour too late to be on hand when his fourth child was born. It was a seven pound, three ounce boy, James Jr. The Trimble family has a son and two daughters, ranging up to four years old.

Administration Blamed By MacArthur for Desertions

State Department To Tighten Up On Relief "Chiselers"

Harrisburg (AP)—At least $1,600,000 could be saved every two years if the State Department of Public Assistance would tighten up on relief "chiselers," the Chesterman committee believes.

"Under the present policy, the department is in the position of offering encouragement to those who have fraudulent leanings," said a weekend report of the State Government Economy Committee.

The committee, set up by Gov. John S. Fine to study efficiency and economy in the state government, recommended a 10 per cent penalty on those recipients found to be falsifying their applications.

In 1950 overpayments amounted to $4,880,000, or about four per cent of the total paid out in relief.

About half of the overpayments were recovered. Persons now found to be receiving more money than they are entitled to must return the overpayments and then continue receiving public assistance at the adjusted rates. The department usually obtains a court order attaching any property of the relief recipient which is invoked at the time he leaves the rolls.

The department already is using reduced grants to recover overpayments in six counties—Luzerne, Delaware, Mercer, Washington, Montgomery and Blair.

Council Has Full Agenda to Consider

Borough council, at its first meeting of 1953, which will take place at 7:30 p. m. today at Municipal Building, will have a full agenda to consider.

In addition to routine business, council will hear annual reports from various city departments, including police, fire, street, and parks. The body will also take formal action on proposed amendments to the zoning regulations, which would allow multiple family dwellings in first class residential districts provided 5,000 square feet of land area is available for each family. A public hearing on the proposed amendments was held last week.

Council will also appoint a police justice for the year, a member of the Board of Health, a member of the Zoning Board of Adjustment, and will give preliminary approval to the 1953 budget.

It is expected that bids will also be advertised for a new police car to replace the older of the two now in service.

New York (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur, in some of the bitterest terms he has directed at President Truman, says the administration's policies are to blame if American military desertions are excessive.

The feud between the Chief Executive and the man he fired as U. S. and U. N. Far Eastern commander reached a new peak over the week-end on the question of desertions which lately have run to 47,000 since the start of the Korean War.

Columist Doris Fleeson of the Bell Syndicate said on Friday that Truman blamed politically-inspired attacks on his Korean War policy for desertions. She said Truman called MacArthur "insubordinate" and asserted he had "set a bad example."

The White House on Saturday described her interview with Truman as accurate.

Saturday night MacArthur, in a statement released by his aide, Maj. Gen. Courtney Whitney, replied:

"If such desertions are indeed excessive, despite the recent denials of the Defense Department, they can more realistically be ascribed to a lack of faith in President Truman's policies of appeasement."

MacArthur in the 400 - word statement termed some of the President's attacks on him as "purile," "unjust and arbitrary," "obvious spleen," "unfounded and, indeed, venomous."

The general concluded his statement in these words: "Perhaps, too, he (Truman) is animated by pique at the President-elect's interest in ascertaining my views on Korea."

In Washington, a White House spokesman said Truman would have nothing to say on the latest MacArthur statement.

Autopsy Ordered In Edinboro Man's Death

Edinboro (AP)—Deputy Coroner Bert Kiehl ordered an autopsy today on the body of 74-year-old partially blind John Schrieber, whose naked body was found in his orchard.

There was no indication that Schrieber, who lived alone, had met with foul play. His clothing lay in a heap on the kitchen floor of his nearby home. State police found $12 in his trousers and $400 in savings bonds on a kitchen shelf. There was no sign of robbery. A neighbor, George W. Swift of Edinboro RD 3, found the body yesterday.

NAMED "MR. V. F. W." Indiana, Pa. (AP)—Zenas H. Hoover of Indiana holds the title today of "Mr. VFW" for 1951-52 in District 26 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. Hoover, who served as district commander for two years, was named yesterday at a meeting in Indiana. The district comprises Cambria, Indiana and Armstrong counties. Combined membership is about 10,000.

TRAFFIC FATALITY Greensburg (AP)—Bert Bishop, about 70, of the Westmoreland County Home, was killed by an auto during the weekend while walking along Route 119 near Greensburg. He formerly lived in Salisbury.

LIKE TO CLEAR PATRONAGE IN THE FUTURE

New York (AP)—Senate GOP leaders said President-elect Eisenhower "fully agreed" today to clear all federal appointive jobs in the future with Republican members of Congress.

Sen. Knowland of California, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, said after a conference with Eisenhower that the general had "fully agreed to follow the customary practice" of checking appointments with GOP lawmakers.

Sen. Taft of Ohio, the Senate majority leader, said Eisenhower's agreement to do this represented "no reversal" of policy on his part, but the Ohioan added that the arrangement had helped to dispel confusion regarding the handling of job patronage.

Knowland, Taft and Sen. Millikin of Colorado, chairman of the Conference of All Republican Senators, spent about an hour and a half with the President-elect.

The leaders also were asked about plans for the Senate to act on Eisenhower's Cabinet appointments.

Taft said the plan now is for the Senate to meet shortly after Eisenhower is sworn in Jan. 20, and immediately confirm the Cabinet appointments.

He repeated that arrangements to hold preliminary committee hearings on the appointments already have been made.

They came in advance of Eisenhower's first meeting with his entire Cabinet. Also scheduled to sit at the Cabinet conference were Vice President-elect Nixon and other top officials of the incoming administration.

In the case of appointment of postmasters to the larger cities, where more than one congressional district was involved, the clearance would be with senators.

The incoming Cabinet members and other key officials of the new administration were getting together with Eisenhower and Vice President-elect Nixon for a round of global and domestic policy discussions.

Committee Charges Red Influences In Schools and Colleges

Washington (AP)—The Senate internal security subcommittee today urged further investigation of Red influences in the nation's schools and colleges and said there are "many hundreds of teachers who are Communists."

The subcommittee said it has turned up evidence from all parts of the country on Communist penetration of colleges, high schools and elementary schools.

During its public hearings in New York City last September and October, the group said, it became apparent it could only survive the situation in a broad fashion and submit an interim report to the new Congress.

This it did today, in a 13-page report to its parent body, the Senate Judiciary Committee.

Crew Is Dead in Crash Of Air Force Bomber

Charlottesville, Va. (AP)—An Air Force bomber, groping its way through fog and rain, plunged into a wooded area near this Central Virginia city yesterday.

Searchers found parts of bodies in the crash, indicating all three crewmen perished. Witnesses who saw the plane diving groundward said no one bailed out.

The Air Force identified the crew as:

Capt. Charles S. Herring, 31, the pilot Falls Church, Va.

Sgt. James R. Quintance, 23, Washington and Reading, Pa.

The USS New is the Flagship of Escort Destroyer Squadron 4.

Pedestrian Is Badly Hurt In One Of Five Auto Accidents In Borough Over Weekend

Five automobile accidents, in one of which a pedestrian was painfully injured, was the score reported by city police for the week end. About $1200 was the estimated damage caused.

Saturday evening, at 8:40 o'clock, William Cook, 30, who resides at the YMCA, was struck at Third and Pennsylvania by a car operated by John S. Pollard, USN, of Youngsville, home on leave. Cook sustained a fracture and dislocation of both bones of his right leg just above the ankle, and bruises of both knees and his right hand. He was taken to Warren General Hospital by ambulance where it is reported that his condition is good today.

According to the police report, Cook was walking across the intersection at the point of General Warren park from the north side of Third street toward the park. Pollard was driving east on Pennsylvania avenue and made a left turn into Third avenue. Both Pollard and a passenger told police they did not see Cook until the car was upon him.

Early Saturday morning, about 7:30 o'clock, cars operated by James Toth, of Tions, and Thomas Grillo, 1115 Pennsylvania avenue, west, collided at Market and Second. No one was injured. Toth told police that he was proceeding east on Second avenue, and claimed a green light at Market street.

Grillo, driving a car owned by Carl Grillo, was going south on Market. Damage to Toth's car was estimated at $300. No estimate was made of the damage to the Grillo car.

Friday evening, shortly after six o'clock, cars operated by Donald Cramer, 517 East street, and J. E. F. Grotzinger, 4 Sixth avenue, collided at Fourth and Market streets. No one was injured. Cramer was driving south on Market and Grotzinger west on Fourth at the time. Damage was placed at $150 to Cramer, and $350 to Grotzinger.

Shortly after nine p. m. Friday, a car operated by Randall Goodard, of Youngsville, missed the south approach to the Hickory street bridge and ran over the sidewalk and into shrubbery and flower beds in Crescent Park. Police called a wrecker to remove the vehicle. No estimate of the damage has been made.

At 11:30 p. m. Friday, on Pennsylvania avenue, west, near Struthers-Wells Company, a car operated by Richard Helmreich, 101 Second avenue, struck the rear of another car operated by Carl Grillo, 1115 Pennsylvania avenue, west. Both vehicles were going west at the time, and Grillo had slowed to make a left turn off Pennsylvania. No one was injured and damage was estimated at $250 to Helmreich and about $50 to Grillo.

Police were active on many other calls. Friday evening, a gang of young men trying to pick a fight on the west side was the object of some attention. The fight was averted. About 11 p. m. (Turn to Page Six)

Increase in State Gasoline Tax Is Not Anticipated, Source Close to Fine Says

Harrisburg (AP)—An increase in Pennsylvania's five-cent a gallon gasoline tax will not be sought at the present time, says a source close to Gov. John S. Fine.

"The governor's present attitude is against any increase," the source said in explaining that Fine was "misunderstood" when he asked the General Assembly for more funds for highway construction.

FIVE ESCAPE FLAMES IN FRAME HOUSE

Erie (AP)—Fire destroyed a two-story farm home yesterday, wiping out a family of six. Five others living on the first floor fled the mushrooming flames that left nothing but a charred mass in the basement.

Burned to death were George Thompson, 23; his wife, Alice, 22; and their children—Rita, 5; Charles 2, and Charlene, 9 months.

They lived on the second floor of the frame dwelling, situated on a 9-acre farm six miles south of Erie.

State Police Fire Marshal Stanley Szymanowicz said he believes an old oil stove, used to heat the children's bedroom, exploded. But he added:

"Although I'm going to make a thorough investigation, it is doubtful if the cause ever can be definitely established."

Szymanowicz said "the house was just a smoldering, charred mass of wood shortly after firemen arrived. Everything fell into the basement."

The charred bodies of all but one of the victims were recovered. Searchers sifted debris to find the remains of the baby, Charlene.

Mrs. Dora Potter, sister of Mrs. Thompson who lived on the first floor with her husband and three children, gave this account of the tragedy:

"I was awakened by smoke and thought George Thompson was building a fire in his stove. Then I heard his wife scream. 'There's a fire, the house is on fire.'"

"The screams woke up my husband (Estill Potter) and he opened the door leading to the stairs. Smoke and fire forced him back. Then George came running down, grabbed a quilt, threw it over his head and rushed back upstairs."

"A few seconds later he dashed down again and asked, almost incoherently, whether we had a flashlight. We said, 'No,' and he ran up the stairs. That's the last we saw of him."

Potter climbed onto a shed adjoining the house and smashed a second-floor window in an attempt to rescue the Thompsons. But the tremendous heat drove him back. He then notified the firemen.

Warren Woman Hurt In Auto Accident En Route to Texas

It was learned in Warren over the weekend that Dr. and Mrs. R. L. Young, 306 Third avenue west, who left here January 5th on a trip to points in Texas and Florida, figured in an accident in which Mrs. Young sustained a concussion of the brain Friday morning about 7:30 o'clock. She is in a hospital in Meridian, Miss., and latest reports are to the effect that she is doing as well as could be expected.

Dr. and Mrs. Young were riding in a car with Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Smith, of Foxsutauney, according to reports, when they stopped for a railroad crossing at the outskirts of Meridian. As they started up a second auto rammed the Smith machine from the rear. Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Young, occupants of the back, were jolted from the seat. Mrs. Smith escaped unhurt, but Mrs. Young when admitted to the hospital was found to have a serious head injury. Neither of the two men in the front seat were hurt. The 1952 Buick sedan, owned and driven by Mr. Smith, was so badly damaged it was decided to junk it and the Warren people will return home as soon as Mrs. Young has recovered sufficiently to travel by train.

Mr. Smith is co-publisher of the Foxsutauney Spirit. The Youngs and Smiths were on their way to Brownsville, Tex., to visit relatives.

Indiana, Pa., Banker Admits False Entries

Pittsburgh (AP)—Samuel Paul Lewis, former assistant cashier at the First National Bank of Indiana, Pa., pleaded guilty today to charges of making two false entries on the bank's books for almost $10,000.

After hearing several witnesses, visiting Judge Frederick B. Folmer of U. S. District Court said he will defer sentencing until Wednesday or Thursday.

Presbyterian Men's Group Has Annual Election of Officers

Upwards of 30 members of the Presbyterian Men's group of the First Presbyterian church, attended the annual meeting of the organization last night, witnessed the installation of new officers and heard a splendid talk by Carroll A. Fowler on "The Place of the Hymn in the Worship Service."

The nominating committee, consisting of G. W. Nelson, W. E. Boreman and Fred L. Plummer, chairman, proposed the following men to lead the Presbyterian Men's group for the coming year: Ralph E. Sires, president; W. P. Taylor, vice president; T. H. Milenius, treasurer; N. W. Drake, secretary, and for members of the board, D. H. Mowell and Brackett Ayers. They were elected by acclamation and it was announced that, according to custom, Vice President W. P. Taylor will represent the Presbyterian Men at the annual convention to be held in Chicago January 30th - February 1st.

The new officers were installed by Dr. Robert S. Steen, pastor of the church, who took this occasion to thank the officers and members of the group for the services they had rendered the church the past year and especially thanked a committee headed by Gene Brown for the attractive Christmas decorations which had graced the church the past two weeks and which had caused wide comments of appreciation from the entire membership.

Mr. Fowler's talk was interesting and instructive in that talking with the enthusiasm and knowledge of a professional he was down-to-earth and realistic in interpreting his talk and made it both easy and entertaining for the laymen present.

Basing his approach to hymns on the sound thought that they are a form of "self expression," he stated that there are three main reasons why the great hymns of the Church appeal to all types of church-goers. "They appeal," he said, "to those who are sure of a need for religion, to those who experience a real blessing from church attendance and, finally, to those who do not know anything about other church ritual and service."

Continuing, Mr. Fowler said that hymns can be a power to the pastor as well as the congregation, that they add emphasis to certain parts of the worship service and that when truly and deeply sung, reveal the "up-reach of men and the down-reach of God."

He concluded his talk by picking specific hymns from the church hymnal and giving brief, interesting points on the lives of the authors and those who wrote the music to some of the old, favorite hymns. At the conclusion of the meeting refreshments were served by a committee headed by Dr. Frank S. Richards.

PRICE INDEX
A decline of two per cent was reported in the index of prices received by Pennsylvania farmers for products during the month ended Dec. 15. A federal-state survey showed yesterday the index for the meat animal group down four per cent from mid-November. Declines ranged from 40 cents per 100 pounds live weight for sheep to $1.10 for hogs. The survey disclosed a drop of one per cent in the dairy products index while that of poultry and eggs was nine per cent less than a month before.

Relief Decline
According to figures released from the Department of Public Assistance in Harrisburg, relief rolls in Pennsylvania declined by about 12% during 1952. The downward trend was reversed in July by the steel strike, and again near the end of the year by normal seasonal factors. The bulletin points out that some further upward movement in the rolls may be expected in the immediate future, with a resumption of the downward trend as spring progresses. According to the latest figures, in Warren county there are 325 persons receiving aid in 231 cases.

Game Commission Has New President

At the January 8th meeting of the Game Commission in Harrisburg, John C. Herman, of Dauphin, was elected president for 1953. Herman, elected 1952 vice-president, served as acting president of the commission following the death of Robert Lambertson, Franklin, last July 20th. Colonel Nicholas Eddle, of Philadelphia, was elected vice-president.

Thomas D. Frye, Camp Hill, present Executive Director, was retained by the Commission. At the same meeting, the Game Commission set the tentative dates of the 1953 game seasons. Season dates and bag limits will be definitely set at the July meeting of the Commission.

The tentative seasons for this year follow: Bow and arrow deer season, October 12-24; small game, November 2-28; bear, November 16-21; antlered deer, November 30-December 12. Population and food condition studies will be made by the Commission before any decision on antlerless deer season will be made.

Fight to Make It Easier To Smash Filibuster Foredoomed

Washington (AP)—The fight of the 19 Democratic and Republican senators to make it easier to smash Southern Democrats' filibusters against civil rights bills was pretty well foredoomed.

They want the Senate, here at the start of its 1953 business, to adopt all the old rules under which it has been operating except one: The one which makes it practically impossible to stop a filibuster.

Only an optimist could have believed they'd win. About the most they can achieve, it seems, is to call the country's attention once more to the fact that under the present Senate rule filibusters are just about unbreakable.

An examination of the rule which is causing all the argument will show that, if the effort of the 19 senators fails, there's not much reason to expect a change in the rule during this Congress.

Under the rule, any time a senator makes a motion to bring up a bill which the Southerners don't like, they can filibuster against it. All other Senate business stops during a filibuster.

In this way the Southerners can tie the Senate in knots indefinitely since the rule says a filibuster can't be stopped except by a vote of 64—a constitutional two-thirds—of all 96 senators. There's not much chance of getting such a vote.

Therefore the rule makes the Southerners' ability to block civil rights legislation almost iron clad. But couldn't the Senate, which adopted this rule in the first place, change it at any time?

Changing the rule would be even harder than getting those 64 votes necessary to break a filibuster and this was also the work of the senators for this reason:

While 64 of the 96 senators could stop a filibuster against a motion to bring up a bill, there's no machinery at all in the rules for breaking a filibuster which the Southerners would start any time anyone tried to change the rule.

Request for Boost In Crude Oil Prices Moves Along to OPS

A 75-cents per barrel increase for Pennsylvania grade crude oil has been approved by one branch of the Office of Price Stabilization and now awaits decision from the fuels division.

The Pennsylvania Oil Producers Committee has learned that the recommendation is on the desk of E. E. Fogle, chief of OPS fuels division. It was sent on by Gregg Burkhalter, chief of the OPS oil branch.

Mr. Burkhalter expressed the hope that the higher ceiling price would prevent premature abandonment or plugging of producing wells in the Pennsylvania grade crude oil region.

The producers committee filed a petition for an increase in the price of crude nearly a year ago.

R. J. Brennan and J. P. Jones of Bradford, committee chairman and secretary respectively, plan to be on hand for a requested hearing on the price matter, proposed by the producers to OPS for early next week in Washington.

D. C. O'Hara, Washington attorney associated with Fayette B. Dow, who is general counsel of the Pennsylvania Grade Crude Oil Association, was to seek the hearing at the request of the producers committee, prior to any final commitment by the OPS fuels division chief.

Pointing out the production of Pennsylvania grade crude has been on a downward trend for months, Mr. Burkhalter based his recommendation for the higher crude ceiling on the program of the Petroleum Administration for Defense to increase to 28,000 barrels daily the production of high viscosity index lubricating oils such as those from Pennsylvania grade crude. He cited also the PAD objective of an increase in oil industry productive capacity by one million barrels a day and the fact that adequate time for development must be allowed to attain these goals.

Fire Sweeps Large Barn in McKean Co.

Kane—A fire of undetermined origin swept a large frame barn at the A. G. Lindholm farm three miles east of here on Rt. 6 Friday morning causing an estimated loss of $50,000.

The barn was completely gutted by the fire and valuable livestock and farm machinery was destroyed.

The blaze was discovered by Mr. Lindholm at 6:35 a. m. and reported to Kane Fire Chief H. D. Gardner and Assistant Chief Vincent J. Pierotti. Two trucks from the Kane Fire Department responded immediately.

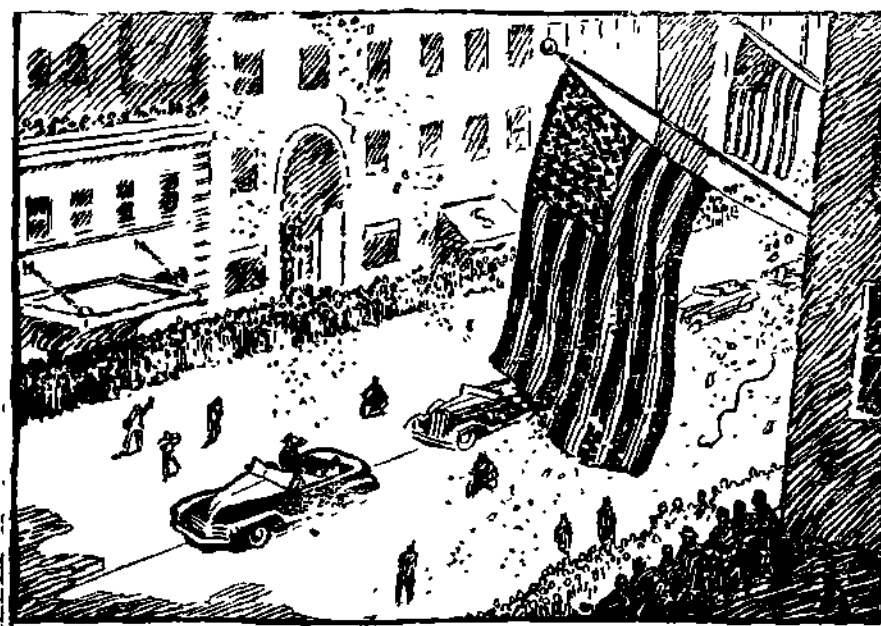

Mr. Lindholm said that there was no fire burning in the building and that electrical connections had been shut off at the residence. Farm equipment had been drained of fuel at the onset of winter, he added.

Mr. Lindholm revealed that he had arisen at 5 a. m. and had checked the barn shortly thereafter and at that time had seen no trace of fire. He then returned to bed and arose again at 6:30 a. m.

Later, he glanced out the window toward the barn and saw flames shooting through the west end of the building.

The Eisenhower Story 7.

Hailed as Hero

In the months after victory in Europe, Dwight D. Eisenhower was widely acclaimed at home and abroad.

Paris, London, New York and other cities gave their hearts in tremendous reactions to the man who was an unknown just a few years before.

Besides the ticker tape and applause, there was a flood of gifts and awards. In all, Ike was given 50 U. S. and foreign decorations, 19 honorary degrees and 20 assorted medals, swords and awards of private groups, cities and nations. In Canada, they named a mountain after him and in Scotland they gave him a luxurious castle apartment.

And again the presidential boom was bubbling. Welcomed back home in Abilene, Ike was asked if he might seek the office. He said, positively, that when he left the Army he only wanted to be a private citizen, nothing more.

At the Potsdam conference in early August, 1945, President Truman told Eisenhower:

"General, there is nothing that you may want that I won't try to help you get. That definitely and specifically includes the presidency in 1948."

"Mr. President," Ike responded, "I don't know who will be your opponent for the presidency, but it will not be I."

Later that month, Ike was feted in Moscow and greeted personally by Stalin. Publicly, the general praised the Russians and said they only wanted peace.

But after a few months of trying to deal with the Soviets as Chief of U. S. occupation forces in Germany, Eisenhower gave this as a formula for getting along with Russia:

"Firmness, patience, a sense of humor—and keep your powder dry."

In November, 1945, Eisenhower returned to this country and served three years as chief of staff. It was a busy three years. He presided over demobilization and unification and was continually inspecting American defenses in four continents.

By early 1948, the Eisenhower for President boom in both the Democratic and Republican camps had reached impressive proportions. Ike cut it off. On Jan. 23, he said his decision to stay out of politics was "definite and positive." He said he did not think that lifelong soldiers should seek high political office "in the absence of some obvious and over-riding reason."

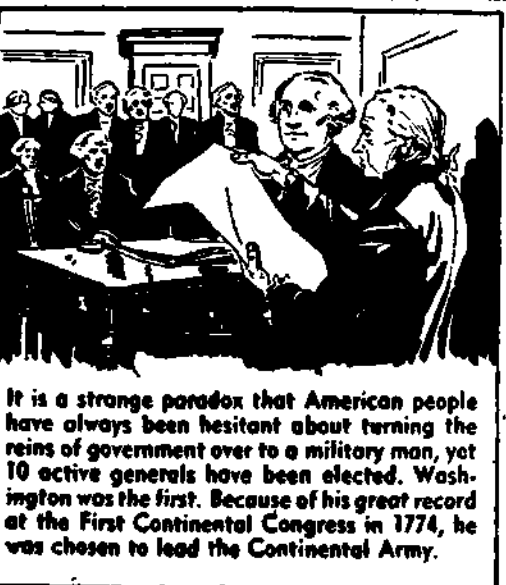

On Feb. 7, 1948, Ike retired as chief of staff. He bought a new car, which he proudly showed to his wife:

"Darling, there's the entire result of 37 years' work since I caught the train out of Abilene."—AP Newsfeatures.

GENERALS WHO BECAME PRESIDENT—I

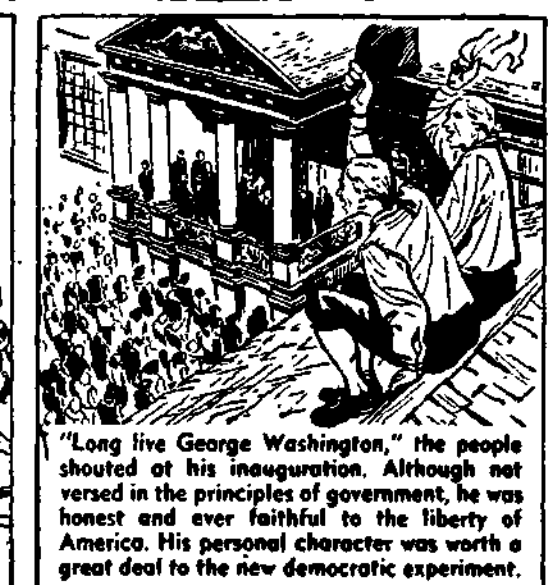

By RAY ELLIS and ED KUDLATY

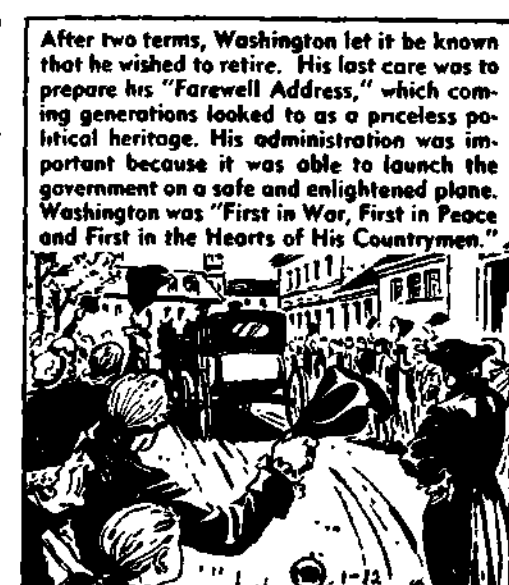

It is a strange paradox that American people have always been hesitant about turning the reins of government over to a military man, yet 10 active generals have been elected. Washington was the first. Because of his great record at the First Continental Congress in 1774, he was chosen to lead the Continental Army.

His brilliant nine-year military career ended with the defeat of Cornwallis at Yorktown on Oct. 19, 1781. With successful military achievements in the French-Indian Wars, at Valley Forge and at Monmouth, Washington showed he was a natural leader and capable of leading the new-born nation during the critical days that lay ahead.

"Long live George Washington," the people shouted at his inauguration. Although not versed in the principles of government, he was honest and ever faithful to the liberty of America. His personal character was worth a great deal to the new democratic experiment.

After two terms, Washington let it be known that he wished to retire. His last care was to prepare his "Farewell Address," which coming generations looked to as a priceless political heritage. His administration was important because it was able to launch the government on a safe and enlightened plane. Washington was "First in War, First in Peace and First in the Hearts of His Countrymen."

PENNSYLVANIA LEADS IN DEVELOPMENT OF MINES FOR NATIONAL DEFENSE

Pennsylvania leads the nation in coal mine construction projects authorized by the Defense Solid Fuels Administration according to a recent announcement by the U. S. Department of the Interior.

Pennsylvania was the first state in our nation to develop its resources of both anthracite and bituminous coal. Its mines supplied motive power for the first American coal-burning railways and steamships. When the iron and steel industries changed over from a charcoal to a coke technology, it was Pennsylvania's mines which supplied the fuel and thus brought about the location of the world's greatest steel center in the area surrounding Pittsburgh.

With the development of coal mining in such other states as Ohio, West Virginia, Kentucky, and Illinois, Pennsylvania's percentage of the national output naturally declined, but through the

in fact, spending more for coal mine development in the defense effort than the total of the four principal competitive states.

The total expenditure authorized by the Defense Solid Fuels Administration for Pennsylvania's 65 mine improvement projects through December 10, 1952, is $82,392,832. The second state, West Virginia, has 55 authorized projects, totaling $27,531,827. Illinois producers with 16 projects, are spending $24,280,850. Alabama producers, with 12 projects, are investing $20,158,000, and Kentucky, with 20 projects, $8,880,376.

GOP SENATE PLAN MAKES SENSE

Though the Republican plan to reorganize the Senate committees may provide the party with a field day, the proposal makes pretty good sense to neutral observers.

The GOP leaders want to add two members to each of 10 major committees, and cut down by two the membership of five lesser committees. This would assure newly elected senators of both parties at least one major assignment, and end the system of relegating freshmen to relatively unimportant duty for at least their first two years.

In former times, background or ability of a high order was not sufficient to assure an incoming senator of an important committee post.

Only the passage of time, and the accumulation of seniority, could give deserving senators a crack at the really challenging jobs. The new system would assure broader distribution of senatorial responsibility for the big decisions.

If the measure were strictly political, designed to increase committee opportunities only for the ruling Republicans, then the critics would have something. But this is not so. The big committees would have 15 members under the new plan, with the majority party holding a margin of just eight to seven over the minority.

So both parties would gain one new member and both would have a larger share of responsibility for major Senate committee action.

HISTORIANS HAVE LAST WORD

One of the remarkable features of present-day life is the self-consciousness of our top political figures about their places in history.

Nowadays our statesmen generally begin making things easy for the historian even before they have laid down the robes of office. A considerable time before he died, Franklin D. Roosevelt was busy helping along the project for the memorial library that now houses his official and private papers.

Friends already are raising funds for a similar library in Grandview, Mo., for President Truman's documents. But Mr. Truman couldn't wait for that project to get going. He permitted publication in 1952 of a book that reveals a lot of his private papers. In these last days in the White House, he's concentrating on setting the historians aright.

And for more than a decade others have been galloping into print with their memoirs at the earliest possible moment.

All this is very thoughtful of these gentlemen. But one may be pardoned for suspecting that the objective historian may still find quite a lot of work cut out for him in evaluating their respective places in history.

Officers and members of the Warren Zonta Club are leaving nothing undone to assure the success of the very important 1953 March of Dimes campaign, and part of the activities will be the Tag Days Friday and Saturday regarding which more will be printed later. In this connection it is interesting to note that the first gift to the fund was received from guests at the Watson Memorial Home.

The Warren High School basketball team, which scored eight points in an overtime period while holding the Titusville Rockets scoreless during the same sensational spurge Friday evening at Beatty gym, is receiving well-deserved congratulations from school officials, students and fans in general.

Warren county will be well represented at the annual Pennsylvania Farm Show opening today and continuing through January 16th at Harrisburg.

Looks like a busy session of the Warren borough city dads this evening on the occasion of the first meeting of the new year!

When the door to excess is shut, there's much more chance of success.

A nervous man can wait for his wife on the corner for two hours in ten minutes.

Here And There

Our own Senator L. E. Chapman, whose duties as chairman of the important appropriations committee of the State Senate keep him busy commuting between Warren, Harrisburg, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and other points in the state, has an important luncheon date with a number of dignitaries at the University of Pennsylvania Friday, having accepted the following invitation from Harold Stassen, recently appointed chairman of the Stabilization board by President-Elect Eisenhower: "Dear Senator—This will acknowledge with thanks your letter of December 30th. I am pleased that you will be able to be in Philadelphia for a luncheon meeting, together with Mr. Stoner, Dr. Topping and me. I would suggest we plan on meeting at my office just before luncheon January 16th. (Signed) Harold Stassen."

Federal Bank, 'Radical' in '13, Has Six in Official Ike Family

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—How times have changed is indicated by President-elect Dwight Eisenhower's naming of six Federal Reserve Bank officials to his official family.

When the Federal Reserve Act was passed in 1913, it was considered by many as a highly radical piece of legislation. Sen. Nelson Aldrich of Rhode Island, a Republican, who led the fight against creation of the Federal Reserve Bank, called it "socialistic in its features of government control."

Forty years later, the Federal Reserve Board and its banking system are regarded as bulwarks of conservatism.

The Federal Reserve officials whom General Eisenhower has picked for high office include Marion B. Folsom and Randolph Burgess for Treasury, Robert T. Stevens for Secretary of the Army, Robert B. Anderson for Secretary of the Navy, William I. Myers and Albert Mitchell for the new Agricultural Advisory committee.

THE fact that General Eisenhower did not appoint the heads of the Big Three farm organizations to his new Agricultural Advisory Committee has recalled stories about other Washington groups on which Farm Bureau, Grange and Farmers' Union officials served.

Back in the early days of the war, when Claude Wickard was Secretary of Agriculture, he had a monthly meeting with the Big Three. Ed O'Neill was head of the Farm Bureau then, Albert Goss was head of the Grange and Jim Patton headed Farmers' Union.

The Big Three so often disagreed on farm policy that their meetings with Wickard became known as "The Secretary's Monthly Shouting Society."

THIS McCarran-Walter immigration law makes a fine distinction between Communists and Nazis, Fascists, Falangists, Peronistas or advocates of other forms of totalitarianism.

Communist aliens are barred from admission to the U. S. under any and all circumstances. But other breeds of totalitarian are barred only if they advocate overthrow of the democratic form of government in the United States.

How this will apply to a native of Yugoslavia applying for admission to this country as an immigrant has yet to be tested and decided. Tito of Yugoslavia is a dictator and an admitted Communist. But he's not a Stalinist Communist, and he's our pal now.

CUSTOM and tradition were given a kick in the pants in the naming of grand marshals for General Eisenhower's inaugural parade. This honor has customarily been given to the country's ranking military officer. Four years ago, for the Truman inaugural parade, Gen. Omar Bradley was grand marshal.

General Bradley, as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, is still the highest officer on active service. But he was by-passed this time and General Eisenhower personally picked three of his other old buddies, now retired, for parade honors. They are Gen. Carl Spaatz, Adm. Alan G. Kirk and Lt.-Gen. Leonard T. Gerow.

THE heavy draft of General Motors officials for the Eisenhower cabinet makes a sharp change in that company's former policy of not encouraging its executives to work for the government.

Two retired GM vice presidents are now in Washington. O. E. Hunt is with the Atomic Energy Commission and Hugh Dean is production expeditor for Defense Secretary Robert Lovett. But after Jan. 20 they'll be joined by the team headed by Chevrolet dealer Arthur Summerfield as Postmaster General, C. E. Wilson and Roger Kyes as Secretary and Undersecretary of Defense. And other.

Symphony Seats To Be Made Available At Merrill Recital

Members of the Jaycee Music Series who attend the Robert Merrill concert tomorrow night at the Library Theatre will have an opportunity to purchase tickets there for the March 2nd concert by the Pittsburgh Symphony Orchestra.

Charles Tranter, music committee chairman, reports the symphony tickets will be on sale in the theatre lobby prior to the Merrill recital.

Since tickets were placed on sale shortly before Christmas, more than 600 seats have been sold, the chairman states. Seats still available are located in the first 15 rows downstairs and the last five rows in the balcony. Other seats are completely sold out.

Persons who do not attend the concert tomorrow night may order their tickets by mail. Orders should be sent to the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Box 147, Warren, Pa., accompanied by check or money order.

All remaining seats on the lower floor are priced at $3; all those available in the balcony are $2. Capacity of the theatre is 1,000 and the Jaycees anticipate a complete sell-out.

The March 2 concert will be the first appearance of a major symphony orchestra in Warren in Warren in many years. William Steinberg directs this 84-piece organization.

Jaycees are bringing the orchestra to Warren as a civic gesture and need a capacity house to meet the expenses involved.

WCTU MEETING

Russell—The regular meeting of the WCTU was held at the home of Mrs. Martha Houghwot, with Mrs. Arthur Briggs, Jr., presiding. Plans for the year were discussed and Mrs. Clyde Briggs was named chairman of a speech contest, while Mrs. Richard Enos will be in charge of a White Ribbon service. It was voted to send $7.75 to The Light Line.

Mrs. Harley Smith gave a reading, "Death Notice, When the Prayer Meeting Died". It was decided to have a poster contest in the schools, a committee to be named later; members voted to observe the hour of prayer preceding the inauguration ceremony of President Dwight Eisenhower, also to try for the "Standard of Excellence" for the coming year. The collection for the day amounted to $1.07.

FAREWELL EVENT

Mrs. David Arp was hostess at her home for a farewell party honoring Marvin Heeter of Barnes, Harry Johnson of Sheffield, and her husband, Mr. Arp, who left with last week's induction group. Also guests were Ann Dewalt of Kane and Nancy Frazier of Saybrook. The hostess served lunch and the inductees were remembered with gifts.

Motorist From Oil City Dies Suddenly En Route to Warren

William A. Oviatt, 60, of 158 Colbert avenue, Oil City, died suddenly at 1:20 p. m. Sunday while en route to the Warren State Hospital where he planned to visit a relative patient. Death occurred near Tidioute, and he was pronounced dead by a physician from that place when the parties with him stopped at a service station for assistance.

Coroner Ed Lowrey authorized removal of the body to the Crawford Funeral Home in Oil City, and a certificate of death from a heart attack was issued. The remains were taken to Oil City by the Sage Funeral Home, Tidioute.

Oviatt is reported to have been driving and a short distance from Tidioute felt ill and asked his nephew, E. G. Poorman, to relieve him at the wheel. Soon after he died of a heart ailment.

In the car at the time, in addition to Poorman, were his son, Richard Poorman, and a sister-in-law of the deceased, Mrs. W. J. Hachett of Lewistown. The four people planned a visit in Warren.

A son of the late George and Mittie Oviatt, he was born July 10, 1892, in Crawford county. He went to Oil City in 1905 and spent the greater part of his life there and was educated in local schools.

For a number of years, he was employed by the P. R. R. and in 1929 he entered the employ of the Knox Glass Associates.

He was married March 1, 1925, to May Emma Bender of Clearfield who survives with two daughters, Thalia and Betty of Erie; a brother, Harry H. Oviatt of Titusville and two sisters, Mrs. Carl Aber and Mrs. James Miller of Oil City.

Friends may call at the Crawford Funeral Home where services will be held at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Interment will be in the Grove Hill cemetery in Oil City.

Scouters Roundtable Thursday Evening

Tuesday, January 15, at 7:30 p. m., is the time set for the next Scouters Roundtable to be held at Grace Methodist church, with Boy Scout Troop 2 and Explorer Post No. 2 playing host to the gathering.

Roundtable leaders who are developing plans for this meeting include George Mattison of North Warren, in charge of Den Mothers and Cub leaders; Irving Peters will lead the Scouters section, and Clayton Bannan will guide the discussion in the Explorer Section of the Roundtable.

All adult Cubbers, Scouters and Explorers are particularly invited to this monthly Roundtable.

SHRINER'S NOTICE

Arrangements have been made for a bus to accommodate Shriner's going to the Zema Zen Ceremonial at Erie on Wednesday, January 14, 1933. Dali Designs Crucifix With $20,000 Diamonds

SALVADOR DALI'S diamond studded crucifix

By W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Arts Editor

Salvador Dali has designed, for the museum or for milady, a second collection of glittering jewels . . . a crucifix which he calls "Light of Christ" and six "mystic medals."

The medals include a Madonna, showing from one angle the face of the Holy Mother and, from another, the face of Christ; a "Bleeding World" and "Veritas Vincit." The others are on profane subjects: "Mad Ophelia," "Daphne" and "Tristan and Isolde."

Commissioned by Alemnay & Ertnan, and now on exhibition in this New York jewelry firm's showrooms, they are the work of the famous surrealist whose paintings in the last couple of years have reflected specifically his Catholic faith.

The crucifix, consisting of a burst of 600 diamonds in the center of the cross, is for sale for $20,000, and the others at $2,750 apiece, and about $32,000 for the collection.

The materials, besides diamonds, are aquamarines, rubies, emeralds, topaz, lapis lazuli, and a softly burnished gold for base. The jewelry pieces were made in New York under Dali's supervision.

'Share the Wealth' Meeting Planned by Historical Group

The Warren county historical group sponsored by the public library will meet in the library basement at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday and an unusually interesting session is anticipated under the theme "Share the Wealth."

A great display will show valuable material given to the group by the Clemons Estate; many important historical items turned over to the group by the County Historical Society for classification; and a collection from the Horne family of Spring Creek, containing some of the very earliest documents, going back to 1790 and including materials in a quaint little horsehair trunk of ancient lineage.

There are boxes and boxes of material from the Clemons Estate and these are to be sorted into groups, by decades, consisting of maps, pictures, old documents, etc., and, as soon as possible, it is planned to have an exhibit of these at the library building.

Plans will be discussed concerning the next work meeting and the matter of continuing the work of indexing county newspapers. Everyone interested is invited to the meeting and to share in the enjoyment of this view of past history of the community.

State Store Employees Hold Meeting at Kane

The McKean-Warren-Potter-Cameron counties chapter of the Independent Association of PLCB Employees held its January meeting at Kane Sunday afternoon, presided over by Vice-President Everett Samuelson, Bradford, in the absence of President Stanley Lawson, of Warren.

Routine reports were heard and membership problems discussed. The group passed a resolution to be submitted to the state officers for consideration, asking that where executive order of the Governor grants long week-ends to all state employees, that liquor store personnel be granted extended vacation to compensate for that time. A recent example is the two long week-ends granted by Governor Pine during Christmas and New Year's, where time off was enjoyed by all state employees from Wednesday to Monday.

Exceptions to these orders are store employees and state police. Other departments grant compensating time off to those compelled to work during the time given by the order.

The next meeting of the local chapter will be held in Smethport on March 15.

Youngsville Man Is Held On Topsy Charge

Wade Henry, of Youngsville, is in Warren county jail where he was remanded in default of bail on a drunken driving charge, and to serve a sentence on a game violation.

Henry was arrested by state police and Game Protector William Overturf, of Youngsville, Thursday night following a one-car accident on Route 6 between Youngsville and Pittsfield in which he allegedly ran his car off the road and into a utility pole, causing about $300 damage.

He was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Tracy M. Greenlund late Friday afternoon where he entered a plea of innocent to the drunken driving charge and was remanded to county jail in default of $500 bail.

To the charge of illegally transporting an illegally killed deer, Henry pleaded guilty and was fined $100 and costs of prosecution. He was remanded to jail in default of the fine and costs where he will serve out the sentence at 100 days if no fine is paid, officers said.

Dragons Beat Rockets in Section 2 Opener

Bruce Duell Scores Two Foul Shots to Tie and Six Tallies to Clinch Overtime Thriller

A blanket of stillness suddenly lowered itself over some 10 chilled spectators in Beatty Junior High gym Friday night and amidst it all, a hero was born.

Bruce Duell, a junior sub, had scored two foul shots that tied the Warren-Titusville Section Two conference opener, 40-40, with only two seconds remaining in the regular game, and then tallied six of the Dragons' points in their 68-60 overtime victory.

It was a heartbreaker for the Rockets, whose spirited efforts in the last half had put them ahead after trailing for three quarters, but started Coach Massa's cagers off in the game with a blaze of glory.

Other Section Two decisions today night went to defending champion Meadville High, who defeated Franklin, 66-46, and Oil City, a 64-51 victory over Corry.

The Dragons were at a disadvantage from the start, playing without the services of scoring ace in Isackson, and had a bigger orn cast in the side when they left Jerry Gordon via the personal foul route in the third quarter and Jerry Ettinger in the same manner in half way through the first stanza.

In his tossed around lineup Coach Massa used Bob Harrington at Bob Wilson at forwards, start- Reserve Jerry Leonard at center, used regular Dick Hartnett at guard post and sub Jerry Gordon in the other. Duell and Ettinger saw a great deal of action, and Dick Lundahl was put in on a couple occasions.

Set shot artist Dick Hartnett as the key figure in the Dragon offense, hitting the hoop with five field goals and four out of five free throws for a 16-point total. Bob Wilson contributed 15 or Warren and Duell and Ettinger added 12 and 10, respectively. Joe Bodamer, Titusville forward, scored for the Rockets with 18 points, Boyd Morris following him with 14.

Wayne Morris gave Titusville a 40-38 lead in the first quarter and managed to remain on top until the final minute. A neat pass from Ettinger to Gordon tied the game 40-40, then the former matched Johnson's free throw and popped a one-hander to give the Dragons a 42-40 edge.

A hot 23-point second period gave the Massmen a nine-point lead by intermission, Wilson leading the drive with eight points. In the first five minutes Gordon, Wilson, Duell, Ettinger and Hartnett all teamed up to gain a 28-21 advantage. Then Hartnett scored a free toss, Bodamer matched it, Ettinger tallied on a jump shot and Duell and Hartnett followed him with two-pointers. The score, 35-22, with Morris and Gedeon hit in order, Hartnett swished one from mid-court, and B. Morris ended it for Titusville from the corner.

Switching to a man for man defense, Coach Buz Shaner's boys outscored Warren in the third and fourth frames. After the third stanza the Rockets found themselves with only a four point deficit, 49-45.

Hartnett tallied four, Wilson and Harrington, two, in the first three minutes of the home stretch, compared with twin-counters by Johnson and Bodamer grabbed another eight-point margin. Wilson made his free throw and Bodamer hit with a set shot. Boyd Morris helped to cut the lead to 58-53 with two charity tosses and Dick McCoy's one-hander made it warmer, 58-55. Gedeon, who replaced Johnson, put up an FG and at the two-minute point in the game B. Morris got in the clear for a layup to give Titusville a slim 59-58 lead.

The Rockets started the press and time out was called by Warren. Then with 10 seconds to go Duell shot and missed. Gedeon took the rebound, and Bodamer was fouled, scoring one of his two tries. The Dragons took the ball out of bounds and with two seconds left, Duell was fouled by McCoy to award the necessary free throws to tie the game.

In the overtime Duell hit first on a jump shot and got a free toss with it, and by the mid-way mark in the three minute overtime he had scored another. Starting the freeze the Dragons worked the ball in until Leonard added two more to the margin and Duell clinched the contest with a jump shot.

Upon the final horn, Duell was rushed by his teammates and thrilled fans and, hoisted on their shoulders, was carried to the locker rooms.

ROCKETS WIN FIFTH, 46-31, OVER WARREN

Warren High's junior varsity wound up the fifth victim of the Titusville Jayvees in preliminary action on Beatty court Friday night, dropping a 46-31 decision after a first half that was neck and neck all the way.

In coping their fifth win in six starts the Baby Rockets waited until the final stanza before they could secure a safe margin over the Dragonettes, outscoring them by more than 10 points.

Jim Cole, Phil Swanson and Stan Hopkins showed up for the visitors with 15, 13 and 11 in a similar order, and Don Mahaffey was Warren's big gun with eight points.

Assistant Coach Red Bell's reserve squad has been somewhat weakened by the advancement of Don Dick, Bill Griffin and Bill Erickson to the varsity.

YOUNGVILLE FLOORMEN BEAT NORTH CLARION, 62-51; SNAP SEVEN GAME WINNING STREAK

A snappy Youngville High quintet played havoc with North Clarion High School's seven game winning streak Friday night and sent the visitors home defeated, 62-51.

Coach Frank Kamus' floormen tagged on to a 13-8 first period spread and lead throughout the remainder of the game. At intermission the lead was still five points, but the Eagles reached a 12-point, 47-35, margin going into the last frame.

Stub Meabon and Bud McChesney were the key pointmakers in the drive with 18 and 16 respectively. They were assisted by Kwiatkowski and Spear, who hit for 13 and 12 points.

The Kamusmen held Clarion's ace, Joe Hartle, to a slim three points, and allowed Wever to rack up 16 and top his lineup.

Tidioute Hi Chalks Up Number Two In The Valley League

Defending champion Tidioute High chalked up number two after the Upper Allegheny Valley league went into its second night of action Friday, trimming East Forest, 54-40, while Sugar Grove won its first over West Forest, 62-53.

In handling East Forest its first setback of loop action, Tidioute rolled up a wide 30-14 margin by intermission, but had to coast home from there as Coach Dick Finley's crew came back strong to outscore the favorites in the last half.

Bob Schwab's 17 points was high for the winners, but the night's honors were stolen by East Forest's Bob Gettling, who had 18.

Coach Fred Bauers improved Grovers shut out West Forest in the opening eight minutes and had a 17 point edge at the half, but the Bowsmen were on the long end of 21-4 scoring in the third to tie the game 38 all. Then, led by Frank's 26 points, the Grovers hustled back to gain a nine-point victory margin. Blum was top man for West Forest with 20.

Sheffield Has First League Defeat, 57-43

Sheffield High got off to a bad start in its initial Allegheny Mountain League test Friday night, losing to Johnsburg, 57-43, while Kane trounced Ridgway, 57-47, and St. Marys beat Emporium, 58-44.

The Wolves and Johnsburg each have two wins to head the loop.

The Johnnies had a much easier time than was expected from the veteran Ralph Santo five and wasted no time in taking the lead, 19-10, the first quarter. Sheffield came back in the second stanza, favoring 17-14 scoring, but were held to 16 points in the last half, 12 of which were foul shots.

Ogden racked up a big 22 points to pace the Johnsburg quintet and Dick Wenker and Dave Gustafson shared high honors for Sheffield with 13 each.

Tuesday night the Orange and Black travels to Emporium, where they will be favored over the winless Raiders. Emporium has suffered nine straight losses.

Wright Wins Match At College in Berea

Clark Wright, Warren High's standout in the 135 and 145 pound classes last year, aided Baldwin-Wallace College in Berea, O., open its 1953 wrestling season with a 16-14 win over Ohio University Saturday when he won a decision in the 157 pound division.

Wright, a freshman, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hadsal C. Wright, 16 Cedar street.

Roman Leads Beatty In 54-22 Victory Over Youngsville

Paced by Jeff Roman's 11 points, the Beatty Junior High cage team defeated Youngsville, 54-22, Friday afternoon on the loser's home court.

The young Eagles floored a scrappy outfit, but the height of Coach Loyal Briggs' Featy quintet was too much.

It was the second win of the season for the Blue and Gold.

Sixteen Girls Take Part In Seventh Annual Tournament

Rose Juliano fired a 657 total and Red Walsh hit a 655 to take an early lead in the seventh annual singles Women's Bowling Tournament in the opening block of games Sunday night. The scores were made in the scratch division.

In the handicap division Helen Graziano emerged the leader with 726, with Dorothy Smith and Red Walsh tied for second with 711's.

Rio Grande Frosh Scores 116 Points For Nation's Record

The 6 foot, 9, 20-year old Francis made 47 field goals and 22 free throws, as Rio Grande defeated Ashland College of Kentucky, 150-85. Rio Grande's team total was also believed to be a national record.

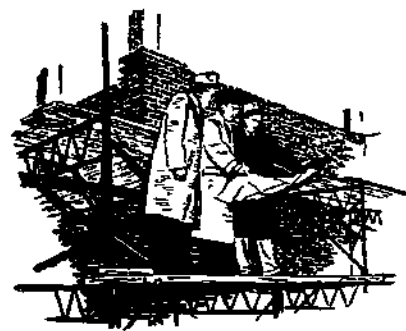

In Rio Grande's 18 straight wins this year, Francis has piled up a total of 903 points, and average of 50 points per game.

More and better telephone service in Pennsylvania

During 1953 we plan to install the tons of intricate equipment necessary to serve more than 136,000 additional telephones.

We plan to break ground for 33 completely new telephone buildings and to start major additions to 22 others throughout the State.

We've scheduled major equipment additions in more than 250 central offices. Major additions to toll lines, cable networks and the like will also number in the hundreds.

Any way you look at it, Pennsylvania keeps growing, growing, growing!

New communities develop. Business keeps expanding. Industrial and farm production keeps rising. And the pace of progress in 1953 looks more vigorous than ever!

All this means stepped-up requirements for telephone service... a constant challenge to the men and women of your Telephone Company. This year again, we'll do our level best to provide telephone service for the scores of new communities springing up throughout the State... just as we'll continue to expand telephone service in established communities, and to develop better and faster ways to handle the ever-increasing number of calls.

Today, in the areas we serve, there are almost three million telephones. More than a million and a quarter of these have been added during the busy years since the end of World War II. And in the same time, the number of calls handled in an average day has jumped from about 7,700,000 to more than 12,500,000.

The people of Pennsylvania need and want good, fast, dependable telephone service. We're determined to see that they continue to get it.

Lions Speaker From Cuttack, India

Dr. Prasana Pati, a graduate of the University of Cuttack, India, now doing post graduate work in psychiatry at the North Warren State Hospital, will be the guest speaker at the weekly luncheon meeting of the Lions Club at the YWCA tomorrow noon.

A native of Sambalpur, Orissa, India, a community about the size of Warren, Dr. Pati will address the Lions on a subject that deals with his home land.

Dr. Pati, a member of the Indian Medical Association, has been training here under the exchange visitor programme by the State Department since his arrival July 15, 1952.

VERY ILL

Friends of F. E. Kishauer, of the Turner Radio Shop, will be sorry to learn that his condition is listed as serious at Warren General Hospital, following surgery performed last week.

PLAN SAUER KRAUT SUPPER

Members of the social committee of the Warren Lodge of Odd Fellows are promoting a sauer kraut supper Thursday evening, 5:00 to 7:30 o'clock, and the usual large patronage may be anticipated. Tickets are now on sale and may be had by contacting officers of the lodge.

PARALYSIS RECORD

A record total of 57,626 cases of infantile paralysis was reported in 1952. It compares with the previous high of 42,053 cases in 1949 and with 28,795 cases in 1951. Reporting the figure today, the Public Health Service said, however, that the incidence rate of 37 cases per 100,000 population in 1952 was below the rate of 42 per 100,000 population in 1951. The 1952 figure is based on the cases and population of 28 states and the District of Columbia. Other states did not make reports in that year. The Health Service said too that polio was not as great a killer in 1952 as in 1949 or in 1951.

HURT BY TRACTOR

Jamestown Sun: A two-year-old girl, knocked down Sunday by a tractor driven by her father, is in Jamestown General Hospital with a fractured skull and other injuries. Her condition late Sunday was termed "fair." The child, Barbara Lee Hall of Route 1, Singletown, was tumbled to the ground by the machine which passed over her body, its giant wheels missing her. She was admitted at 3:15 p. m. to the hospital where doctors said she suffered brain burns of the face and head in addition to the skull fracture. The accident, on which details are lacking, reportedly happened in the driveway of the Charles Hall farm.

COLLAPSES ON HIGHWAY

Phillip C. Stanton, 22, who said he was from Marion, Ind., and was a magazine salesman, was found where he had collapsed from lack of food and from exposure along Route 322 at 7 p. m., near the home of Clarion County Commissioner George M. Seigworth. He was taken to the Seigworth residence and revived with hot coffee. He said he could not get into the Army and was trying to make a living selling magazines. He had eaten only one candy bar Wednesday and was en route from Clearfield to Clarion when he collapsed. After being given food and care at the commissioner's home, he was taken to a convalescent home in Clarion for the night.

JOINTURE DINNER

Warren school officials are completing plans for a dinner next Wednesday evening at seven o'clock in connection with the first meeting of the board representing the Warren Area Joint School District. The dinner will be at Beauty school and almost fifty are expected to be in attendance, with representatives present from boards in Mead, Glade, Kinzua, Elk, Pleasant, Conewango and Watson townships, as well as Clarion and Warren boroughs. Following the dinner at Beauty the group will adjourn to the public library for a meeting of the joint committee.

Warren Resident Is Hurt When Hit By Car

Charles Bimler, 79, of 419 Laurel street, who has been residing in Youngsville with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sweetland, was painfully injured Saturday evening at 6:45 o'clock when he was struck by a car operated by Arlyle Paul Delp, Youngsville RD, while walking across East Main street in Youngsville.

Mr. Bimler, who was rushed to Warren General Hospital by ambulance, sustained a compound fracture of the right leg, and head lacerations. His condition is reported today as fairly good.

Officers Named At Annual Meeting Of Sugar Grove Church

Sugar Grove—The Rev. Robert C. Knapp, pastor of the North Warren Presbyterian church, moderated the annual meetings of the local congregation and Sunday school, when reports were received, officers elected and plans made for the future.

Melvin Rein, who has pastored the parish for the past seven years, presented his report, with Frank Miller reporting for the session; J. A. McIntosh for the trustees; Everett Bowers for the Every Member Canvass; and Mrs. Scott Stuart, Sr., for the Women's Missionary Society. All reports showed progress, with all organizations in good financial condition and all bills paid.

Reports showed the church has been painted on the outside, redecorated inside, an oil heating system has been installed, and other improvements made.

Members were reminded Rev. George F. Kerchner, general presbyter and stated clerk of Erie Presbytery, will conduct the January 18 worship, with communion and installation of elders.

In the Sunday school meeting, Assistant Superintendent Everett Bowers presiding, officers gave their reports; Mrs. J. A. McIntosh reported for the Try Company and Mr. Bowers for the Adult Bible Class. Officers elected were as follows:

Superintendent, Paul Carlberg, Sr.; assistant, Everett Bowers; secretary, Ronald Webster; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Scott Stuart, Sr.; treasurer, Frank B. Miller; elementary superintendent, Mrs. Paul Carlberg, Sr.; assistant, Mrs. Earl Capron; cradle roll superintendent, Mrs. Ray Gruber; home department superintendent, Mary Hamilton; Christian education, Mrs. Allan Frank; pianist for the adult department, Cynthia McKay; assistant, Diane Stewart; pianist for elementary department, Nancy Bowers; chorister, Rev. Edward Johnson.

When birds are migrating, their crops usually are empty.

NOTICE

In re: Estate of Julia C. Slater, deceased.

Notice is hereby given that Nancy J. Wickstrom, Administratrix c. t. d. b. n. of the Estate of Julia C. Slater, deceased, presented her petition to the Orphans' Court of Warren County, Pennsylvania on December 17, 1952, setting forth that said administratrix had filed the First and Final account of her administration of said estate and that the same was confirmed absolutely on December 3, 1952, showing a balance for distribution, and praying said Court to fix a time for hearing, direct notice to be given and order distribution of the balance for distribution; whereupon, said Court fixed 10 o'clock, A. M. January 29, 1953, as the time for the hearing in said matter, when and where all persons interested may appear before said Court and be heard.

Two Major Figures in Seventh U.N. Assembly

Two outstanding figures of the Seventh United Nations General Assembly, India's V. Krishna Menon and President Lester B. Pearson of Canada, are shown below the speaker's rostrum at the close of the stormy first half of the session in the early morning of 22 December. Mr. Menon proposed the resolution for an armistice in Korea which was adopted by the Assembly and later rejected by the People's Republic of China and the North Koreans. The second part of the session is scheduled to reconvene by 24 February 1953.

Simple Suggestion To Income Taxpayers

Individuals who are entitled to income tax refunds may expedite the processing of their refunds by following a simple suggestion made today by Raymond S. Kraft, Acting Director of Internal Revenue, Pittsburgh.

Mr. Kraft suggested that each taxpayer who is entitled to an income tax refund at the time he is making his return to the Director's Office, write the word "Refund" in the lower left-hand corner of the envelope. Many income tax returns may have neither a payment nor a refund due. Furthermore, at this time of the year, the Director's office receives large numbers of excise tax returns and other Internal Revenue forms from various classes of taxpayers.

Mr. Kraft stated that it is the policy of the Internal Revenue Service to issue as soon as possible refunds to those who are entitled to them and pointed out that an envelope which indicates that it contains a refund return will receive priority in his office.

A MILESTONE . . .

The 1952 fiscal year covered by the annual reports of the leading investment trust funds completes years of service to investors. It has been a year of great significance in broadening the ownership of these same companies. For these were the years which saw the rise to flourishing maturity of Mutual Investment Trust Funds.

The fact that hundreds of thousands of people of modest means have become true "capitalists" is directly due to these Mutual Funds and, in consequence, they are considered by many as one of the strongest bulwarks of our economic system.

Why not become a "capitalist" yourself by buying an interest in many of America's leading industrial companies through an investment in one of the leading investment trust funds?

A prospectus and additional information is available to you at our office on any of the leading funds... call, write or phone... no charge and, of course, no obligation.

Man With Most Inaugural Headaches Is Absolute Front Man for Parade

BY DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

Washington—(NEA) — Leading gala inaugural parade in front of the bands, troops, floats, politicians—even in front of the new president and Vice President—will Robert V. Murray, the absolute front man of the whole extravaganza.

His title will be Grand Parade Marshal, an honor traditionally bestowed upon Washington's Chief of Police.

It's small enough honor for the man who probably has more inaugural responsibilities and headaches than any other official.

For three eventful days he is responsible for the protection and safety of an anticipated half-million visitors who will flood the nation's top industrial centers, key politicians from most of the states, diplomats and important foreign visitors from all over the world, and hordes of just plain citizens.

Not the least of his tasks for a big event is an important one of the responsibility, with Secret Service, for the protection of the President. This requires seeing every room in every building along the parade route to be sure there is no suspicion of being used by an assassin.

Murray has to work with the Secret Service screening invitation lists for events which the President will attend. Floor plans of all buildings in which the President will spend some time have to be studied so that Secret Service men can be stationed at strategic spots.

All routes along which the President will ride, to and from the Statler Hotel from Statler to the White House and of course the parade route, will have to be guarded by Murray's men.

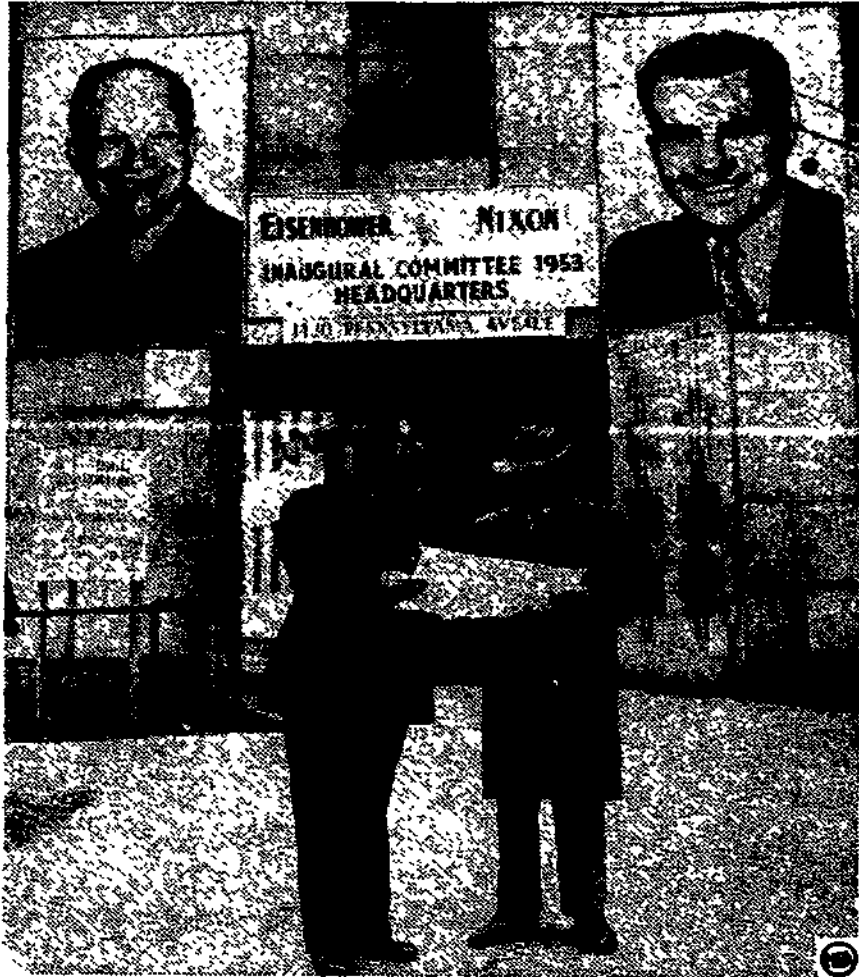

Fortunately, those tasks, plus seeing an expected influx of thousands of people, and confidence men, and all-out celebrating can't turn Murray's hair white. It's practically all white w.

CREMULSION

Relieves Coughs, Chest Colds, Acute Bronchitis

AWAY IN FRONT of everybody else at inaugural parade will be Washington Police Chief Robert V. Murray (right) here checking plans with George L. Hart, Jr., assistant inaugural chairman.

The Murray seen by law-abiding citizens of the District is a quiet, friendly individual. The town's crooks rate him a cold, deadly efficient operator. They resent his steady rise from the lowest ranks to the top in the D. C. Police Department.

In one capacity or another he has had an intimate part in the police work of four previous inaugurations and knows the problems inside out, although this is his first one as boss-man.

For instance, he remembers the inaugural of 1941 when the crowd almost broke through police lines threatening to engulf President Roosevelt. He promises that won't happen this time, regardless of the size of the crowd.

Every policeman on his staff will do double duty during the three days. In addition he has borrowed the services of the most expert men on pickpocket and confidence detail who can be found in the U. S. He says:

"There are policemen who know by sight the top pickpockets and confidence crooks in the U. S. They know their habits, where and how they like to work and how best to nail them. I've got the tops in this work coming to Washington to help for the inaugural."

He's optimistic about the behavior of the crowd, explaining: "We feel sure that the celebrating will be kept within bounds, as it usually is at inaugurations. The visitors always cooperate, too."

Another of Murray's problems is the spotting of first aid stations along the parade route. Scores of persons usually faint from exhaustion, are injured by the crowds or suffer some other malady from the events.

Providing first aid is a major effort calling upon the special services of hundreds of nurses and doctors who must volunteer their time. Special units will be operating 24 hours a day during the three days.

Few Presidents Able to Move Into White House and Relax

Washington (AP)—No president since Herbert Hoover in 1928 has been able to move into the White House and relax. Even Hoover had only a few months of comparative quietude before the Wall Street crash.

Roosevelt inherited the depression. To Truman fell the job of finishing World War II and fashioning the peace. Gen. Eisenhower inherits the Korean War and the cold war with Russia.

Truman in his State of the Union message said he is also leaving Eisenhower a great legacy: a nation which rose from poverty and isolationism in 20 years to its greatest prosperity and world leadership.

That legacy is not without strings. With it goes the responsibility for maintaining both the prosperity and the leadership, and the challenge to respond boldly to new crises which confronted them when they first took office were replaced by brand new ones, of a different kind, before their time in the White House was finished.

It may be the same with Eisenhower.

When Roosevelt moved in in 1933 he rose to the emergency of the economic disaster with one bold New Deal measure after another.

He had his hands full with domestic problems and turned his back on Europe for years.

But as we drew nearer war—the New Deal legislation had ended by then—he made successive daring moves. Once in the war, Roosevelt assumed for this country world leadership and the decisions needed to sustain it.

When Truman took over, his immediate task was ending the war. Once that was done—his hardest wartime decision was whether to drop the atomic bomb—he faced the gigantic job of getting the country prosperously into peace.

It was a troubled peace from the beginning. As he mentioned in his message, he too had to make bold decisions he never dreamed of when he moved into the White House.

So while Eisenhower's tasks at the beginning of his term may appear monumental, they may turn out to be small and simple compared with those facing him four years from now.

State Highway Official Offers Advice on Winter Driving

Harrisburg—Although highway workers are at their jobs long hours these days and nights trying to keep travel lanes open and safe, the motorist is often on his own, it is emphasized by T. Elmer Transeau, Director of the Pennsylvania Bureau of Highway Safety.

"When Old Man Winter strikes," he said.

"Cinders or sand particles are spread upon curves, hills, and bridges, and approaches to railroad grade crossings and intersections. Because of alternate thawing and freezing, new snow or freezing rains, some locations must be gone over repeatedly. Even so, it is not always possible to guarantee safe traction."

"A reliable driver gets the 'feel' of the road on packed snow or ice. He reduces speed, anticipates stops well in advance, keeps a safe margin between his car and others, slows down for curves and crossroads, and uses tire chains when conditions warrant. If visibility is poor, he drives slowly and watches out for slow moving highway crew vehicles which are hard to see in blowing snow."

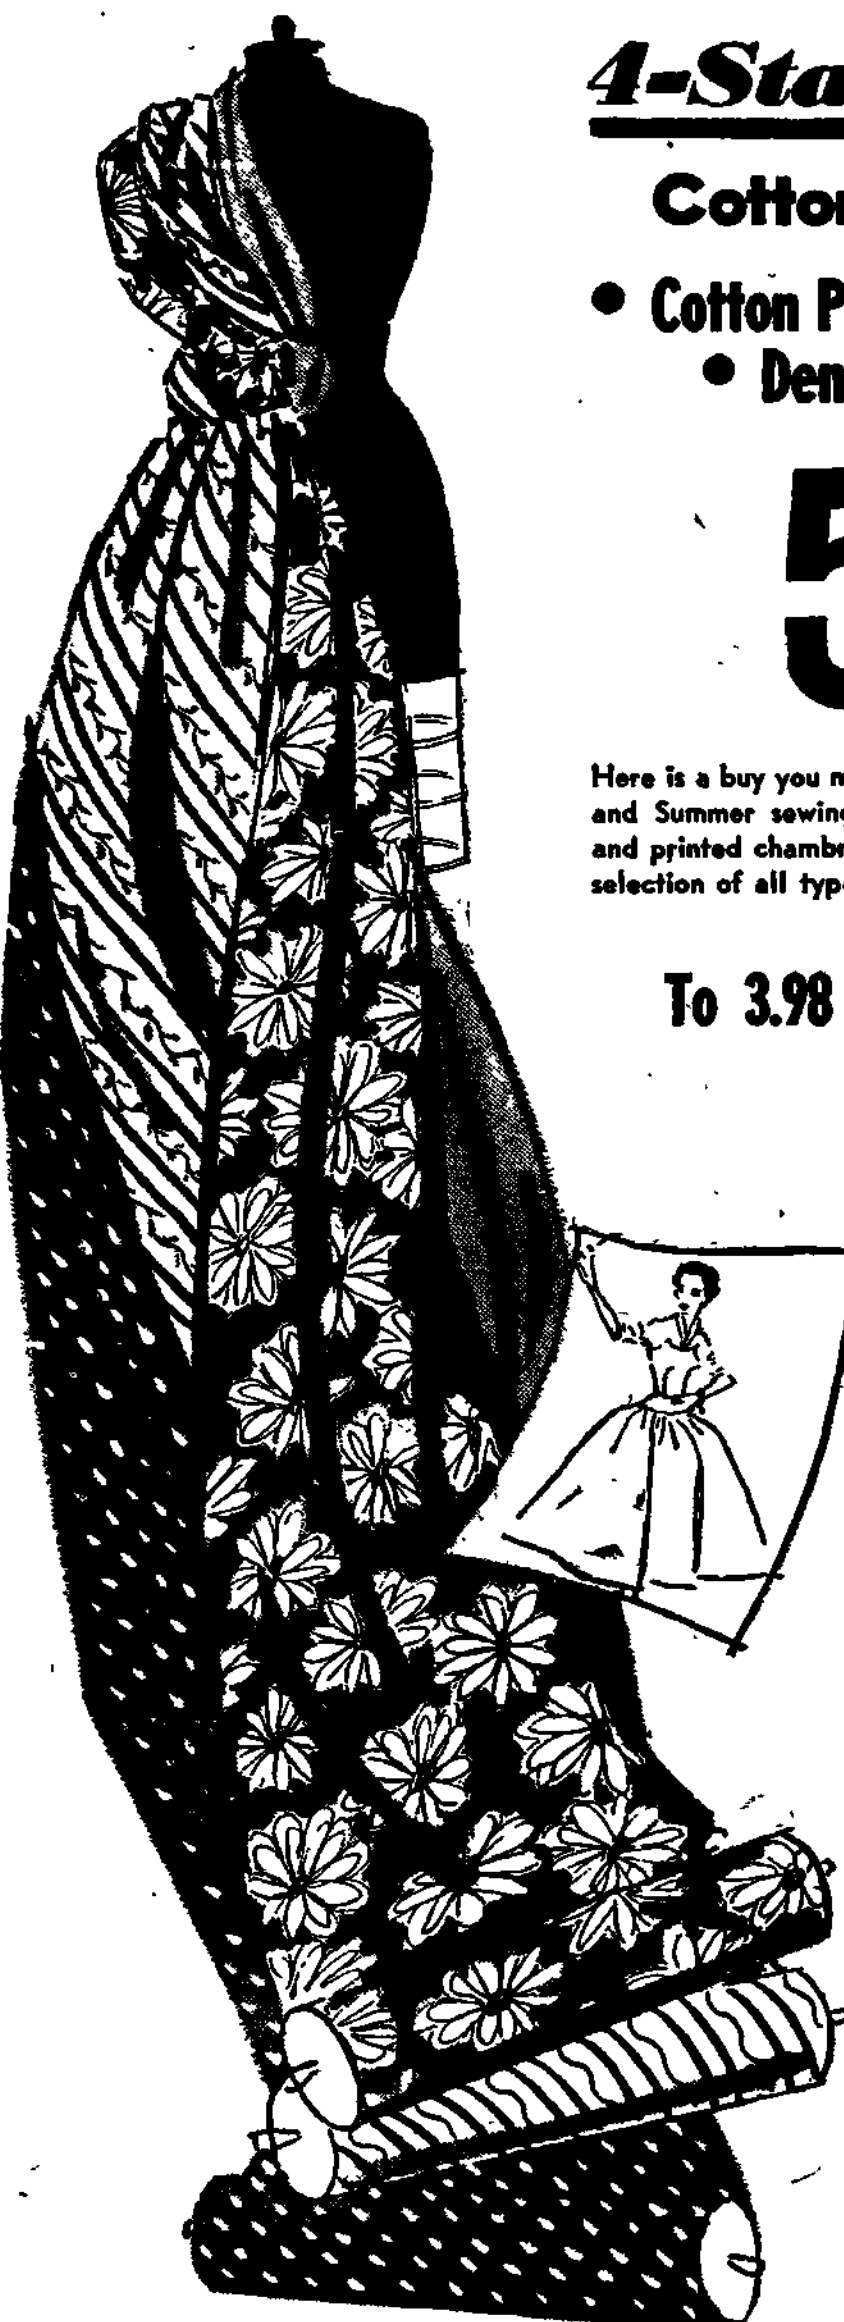

Commenting on the use of winterized tires, the state official said the National Safety Council has conducted tests of all types of tires on snow and ice surfaces.

"These tests proved that even with the special 'winterized' tires, stopping distances on ice average about 188 feet at only 20 miles per hour. With reinforced-type tire chains, stopping distances on ice is reduced to an average of 77 feet," he declared.

"When ice temperature is near the thawing point, the required distance for stopping without chains is lengthened ever further, for wet ice is much more slippery than dry ice."

"Breaking distances on hard-packed snow are less than on ice, but caution is still the watchword. Ordinary tires on packed snow slide about three times as far as the average 21 feet obtained on dry concrete, while with chains the footage required is only twice as much. Even with the best new tires, the best brakes, and the definite advantage of tire chains, when snow and ice conditions prevail it is imperative that drivers exercise added care in the use of their vehicles to prevent a skid-wreck. All auto tires are now largely made of synthetic rubber, which wear better and perform normally on all dry or wet pavements. But synthetic rubber does slide and spin considerably more on snow and ice, so tire chains are important equipment for vehicles that must operate during these conditions. They will help avoid accidents and traffic tie-ups."
